Why sell regular paint when you can sell paint with health benefits

Elevate Your Product Line with Oxygen

Offer a product your customers will thank you for it

Indoor air contamination is a growing concern in major cities around the world that is leading to serious health risks such as respiratory illnesses, immune system deficiency, fatigue, and brain fog. These invisible particles and microscopist organisms, commonly referred to as the “Silent Killer” by health experts, can cause major disruption to our health and wellness, over time.

Introducing Oxygen Coating

Oxygen is a “category defining” wall and ceiling coating designed to transform interior surfaces into active air purifiers.

With its ionic powers, infused with advanced Air Purification Technology, this coating neutralizes airborne bacteria, pollutants, mold, and unpleasant odors, creating a healthier indoor environment.

Key Benefits

- Health Enhancement: By neutralizing harmful pathogens and pollutants, Oxygen Coating can help increase air purity levels allowing inhabitants in Oxygenated spaces to breathe better AIR.
- Eco-Friendly Composition: Manufactured, Trademarked and backed by a team of PhD scientists and a former member of NASA JPL in the United States, Oxygen Coating is 100% eco-friendly, made from natural minerals that are compliant with EPA standards.
